He doesn't reject people (Elder Efraim Vatopaidinos)

Ξένες γλώσσες / In English

young man who comes here to become a monk does so because he's been stricken with the fire, the fervor of Christ. And when he comes, he doesn't reject humanity. A monk who leaves and comes into the desert, does so because he rejects the unwholesome spirit of the world, but not the human person.
