They change their method (Elder Joseph of Vatopaidi)

Ξένες γλώσσες / In English

The demons usually fight against us in a particular way, but this isn't an absolute because they're well aware that they can achieve our downfall by other means of attack. They usually fight with some sort of order, but this isn't permanent. All they need is to see any opportunity at all, be it natural or acquired, or any crack that will give access for them to strike.
