Your sole concern (Saint Theophan the Recluse)

Ξένες γλώσσες / In English

Prove to God, in practice, that you've given yourself up to Him completely, that you're not concerned about anything, that you accept, calmly and without complaint, whatever He sends, pleasant or otherwise, in the conviction that this has been allowed by Divine Providence. Your sole concern should be the careful observation of God's commandments, whatever the circumstances.
