

The best stronghold (Saint Nectarios of Pentapolis)

Ξένες γλώσσες / In English

Love for God is begotten from true faith, because people who genuinely love God would never consent to abandon this faith. Grass is better able to withstand fire than the devil can bear the flame of love. Love is a better defence than a wall and is more resilient than a diamond. Love isn't human words and concepts, nor is it mere announcements and speeches, but rather it's tangible care expressed through works.
