Like people who are drunk (Elder Ephraim of Arizona)

Ξένες γλώσσες / In English

Individualism lives and reigns, and deceit has become a 'flair'. Whole generations have grown up learning how to swindle. And all of this in a set of established circumstances with absolutely no punishment... In fact, the more you swindle, the further you are from punishment. God sees this. These days He's allowing us to be beaten about the head and ears a bit, in the hope that we'll come to our senses, as is the case with people who are drunk.
