He doesn't feel insecure (Metropolitan Athanasios of Lemessos)

Ξένες γλώσσες / In English

God gives us the freedom to do what we like. We have the freedom to reject Him, to spit on Him, to curse Him. He gives us this freedom because he feels no insecurity. Humble people don't feel insecurity, nor distrust, either. They don't feel weak, they allow others to do as they wish, but they themselves remain at their post. They're steady and do no harm to other people.
