

That's where God will appear (Metropolitan Athanasios of Lemessos)

Ξένες γλώσσες / In English

You do what you can. Do what you can without worry, without anxiety, without being troubled. Do whatever you can and your conscience will bear witness that you've done so, thus far. Thereafter, you can't do any more. You place the issue, the problem, your child, your health, your finances, whatever it is that's weighing on you, in God's hands. And that's when God will really appear.
