If you loose your language, the nation will be lost too, says Turk

Ξένες γλώσσες / In English

Co-chair of the Democratic Society Congress (DTK) Ahmet Turk responded the PM's Erdogan's speech of yesterday. In response to the PM's statement in which he said "Mother tongue education is out of question. The official language of the country is Turkish." Ahmet Turks said such statement caused disappointments among the Kurds and once the culture has been lost the nation will also be lost.
