Turtlets

/ Επιστήμες, Τέχνες & Πολιτισμός

I'm housesitting for my parents this week, while they cavort about southern Pennsylvania. I'm here primarily to look after the horses, which are a little like dogs in that they require daily care, but are a lot harder to leave with a friend or take to a boarding kennel. My mom brings hers inside at night, into a hoop-style greenhouse that's been converted into a stable. The original "floor" of the greenhouse is sand, though mats have been put down in the stalls.
