We're all so clever (Saint Paisios the Athonite)

Ξένες γλώσσες / In English

For God to answer our request and for him to give us what we ask for, we must first have humility, but we don't. All of us, young and old, are very full of ourselves and won't accept advice or chastisement. We know everything, we're all so wise.

Saint Païsius the Athonite
